MACOI first helped Mayflex 3 years ago, when they required an office furniture and fit out company to refurbish their branch sales office, which included new partitioning to create flexible areas.

Mayflex is a leading distributor of infrastructure products, including copper cabling, fibre optic cabling and voice cabling systems, with their head office located in Birmingham and branch sales office in St Neots, Cambridgeshire.

Following the businesses continued growth our services were called upon again to refurbish offices, breakout spaces and a meeting room area, including the installation of additional partitioning, flooring and a kitchen suite at the busy sales office in St Neots.

With an emphasis on style, we used a blend of modern and sophisticated design, helping to give the busy and proactive sales environment a striking new identity.

Drawing on our extensive knowledge and vast experience, we worked together with our customer and their appointed external team, including electrical and decorating contractors to produce a schedule of works to ensure the entire project was completed to a strict timeframe.

Testimonial

Richard and the team at MACOI have always been extremely helpful when designing and helping us choose our office furniture.

They are available whenever you need them and will do their up-most to get us what we need within budget and on time.

Richard has looked after us for many years and we will continue to use him in the future - Thanks for all your hard work and meeting all our crazy requests and deadlines!
