Successful relocation of offices nationwide with fully integrated support.

Here at MACOI, we pride ourselves on a reputation of providing quality office furniture alongside premier professional services; and with these qualities, we are proud to have worked with Purcell Miller for over 20 years.

Working alongside Purcell, we recently helped manage their multi-phased office relocation project that also involved co-ordinated reconfiguration of furniture, in some of their branch offices across the UK.

Our experienced business relocation team were able to provide a complete project managed solution including crate hire, temporary off-site storage, pre and post move support and space designs for relocated furniture.

We dismantled furniture from the Nottingham, Cardiff and the previous Bristol office and rebuilt the existing furniture into the new Bristol and Manchester offices, along with visiting Norwich, Canterbury and York offices distributing, and installing the remaining surplus furniture.

All the office moves were completed as scheduled, covering over 1300 miles and 24 driving hours.

Testimonial

“Purcell first started working with MACOI in 1998 and have always found them to be extremely efficient, good value and customer focused.”

“Recently we invited MACOI to help us with the challenge of relocating several of our architectural studios which involved the storage and redistribution of existing furniture to new locations and configurations across the UK”.

Testimonial

“Purcell first started working with MACOI in 1998 and have always found them to be extremely efficient, good value and customer focused.

For example, we recently invited MACOI to help us with the challenge of relocating several of our architectural studios which involved the storage and redistribution of existing furniture to new locations and configurations across the UK.

Our Account Manager, Sarah Cornwell, provided an exceptional service. We were reassured to have Sarah working alongside us providing expert support and guidance from the start of the project, through to space planning options and overseeing installations on site. She offered solutions to every challenge and was extremely proactive in bringing the project to successful conclusion.

The project was phased over 6 months, during which Purcell gave MACOI some demanding deadlines. The whole team proved to be very helpful, accommodating and flexible in their approach, nothing was too much trouble. Sarah and Darren, to their installation team, were all friendly, polite and efficient, even in stressful situations.

As a result, we have now invited MACOI to be involved in the reorganisation of our headquarters in London to accommodate growth and we look forward to working with them again in the future.

We would have no hesitation in recommending MACOI to other organisations”.
